Verse

When the strayed son had reached his “promised land”
He had wasted what he had
With nothing left, a famine came
And he longed to eat the food that the pigs ate

Chorus

What man of you, with a hundred sheep
Would not leave the ninety-nine in the open country
And go after the one that is lost
Until he finds it at any cost?
God our Father pursues the lost

Bridge

The son came to himself while in his misery
And planned to journey home with a desperate plea
Begging not to be a son but just a servant he would be
To his father hoping for his mercy

Chorus

He said, “Father I’ve sinned I’m not worthy as a son”
But the Father gave him clothes and for him held a celebration
His son once dead and lost to his passions he was bound
But now he is a - live and for - given, he now is found
